FOREWORD.

WILLARD T. PERRIN, Ph.D., President.

What a fine thing Mr. Charles Emerson of Concord, has done, by putting into the hands of our Association property valued at over $50,000. The Hospital at Concord thus made possible will stand through all the years as a beautiful memorial of the thoughtful philanthropy of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson. This beneficent institution founded by their gifts will continue day after day to bring relief to the distressed, health to the sick, comfort to the burdened and salvation to the penitent. Think of it!, Who but the recording angel can ever tell the blessings which will ceaselessly flow to countless sufferers from this perennial fountain! What better investment can be made than this? And our Association affords to others an opportunity for just this sort of investment, in the completion of our Hospital in Boston. It is thrilling to contemplate what good our two Hospitals are accomplishing. Fancy the significance of such statements as you find in Miss Betts' report; "discharged well, 404;" "discharged relieved, 454."

What better investment can be made than this? I ask. But perhaps you may think it even a better investment to provide for the training of the deaconesses without whom the hospitals would be but piles of brick or tile. This I will not dispute. Not the buildings only, but even more the nurses are essential. And our deaconesses carry on their Christ-like ministry not only in the hospitals but in thousands of homes where bodies ache or souls are sad. Well, we are seeking the means to build a new Training School. Why not invest in this? Or you may know some person who is anxious to have their money doing good when they are gone. There are many such. A dear saint of God, an esteemed former parishioner buried child and husband and in her old age found herself alone. This last year she turned over her property to the Association on the annuity plan and is assured of a comfortable home for life. At present she is a happy member of our family at Haverhill and a benediction to all in the Home. What a good thing for her to do! You may know someone who would be glad to do likewise, and ere long we hope to have an Old Ladies' Home ready for occupancy. The funds for the building are in hand, but we are looking for an adequate endowment. Where shall it be found?

It is God's work this work of ours. Read the reports and tell me if I am not right. See how beneficent, manifold, unsectarian, cosmopolitan, far-reaching, successful and glorious it is. What a joy to be in God's work! We all feel so I am sure and gladly look forward to the privileges of service for another year.

DEACONESS HOME.

MISS SADIE A. HAGEN, Superintendent, 693 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston.

On October first the present superintendent was welcomed into the family at the Deaconess Home and will be able to report from personal knowledge for the past three months only.

For fifteen months, Alice M. Robertson was the Acting Superintendent. At a time of great need she heard the call, "Come over and help us:" she came and all were deeply grateful for her coming. She goes to take up the duties of General Field Secretary of the Methodist Deaconess Association. Our love and best wishes follow her.

During the past year God's blessing has been upon both work and workers. The activities and influences of the Deaconess Home have widened and we rejoice in the belief that God so ordered it.

Dr. Averill and Miss Raynes, our District Nurse, have just passed the first milestone of the medical work. It has been their privilege to alleviate much pain and suffering by their skill and counsel. Aside from her regular work, Dr. Averill has a club of young women and Miss Raynes continues in charge of the Mothers' Club.

Through the kindness of the Deaconess Aid Society, Miss Colson was enabled to attend the summer school at Hyannis. She took the course in sewing, domestic science and euthenics. She remains in charge of the Industrial work at the Home. Miss Colson has put forth every effort to make the work a success and it has not been in vain. From lack of room, she is prevented from doing a much larger work and a one that is very much needed in the neighborhood of the Deaconess Home. Classes have been organized in sewing, dressmaking, drawing, stenciling, brass work, music and cooking, also evening clubs for boys and girls. The Deaconess Aid society has generously provided the support.

Students from Simmons College and the Deaconess Training School have served as teachers. Friends from the outside have taught and helped in different ways. Between four and five hundred children attend the classes and clubs each month. The influence of the work has been far reaching.

Much money has been expended in emergency work and many garments have been distributed. All through the year there are demands upon our emergency fund for relief work. Generous contributions have been received, especially at Thanksgiving and Christmas season. 125 dinners were sent out at Thanksgiving by the deaconesses. Kind friends have furnished us with coal orders.

The Deaconess Aid Circle helped as usual at Christmas time by providing candy and ice cream for the mothers and children who attended the Christmas tree at the Home. One hundred children came in the afternoon and forty-five women and girls in the evening. Several Sunday schools donated quantities of clothing and provisions—including sixteen bags of flour from a class of young men,—vegetables, fruits and canned goods, toys, books, candy and all the necessary things to let the little folks know that Santa Claus was still alive.

Many hours have been spent among the sick and needy; the aged and shut-ins always welcome the deaconess, and the hundreds of bouquets carried to them, have brought to these sufferers God's own message.

Most gratifying work has been done with young women by Miss Barlow; situations have been found for many and others have been helped over hard places.

Four hundred forty-eight children were sent by the deaconesses to the Fresh Air Home, last summer to be cared for by the resident workers, Misses Aker, Brown, Hagen, Reed, Swett, and Wood. There were also twenty-three other children sent to the country for two weeks or more and 779 mothers and children were given one day outings.

The field workers, Misses Wood, Springham and Miles have travelled far and wide in the interests of the work and its needs. The results of their untiring efforts have been most satisfactory.

We have been permitted to lift a part of the "Burden of the City" by work among the foreign population. Misses Gavin and Barber have served Morgan Memorial; Miss Hoxie has spent another year with her beloved Portuguese people in East Cambridge; Miss Anderson has an extensive Swedish parish covering a large part of the city and all of the suburbs.

The East Maine Conference has had the services of three Deaconesses:—Miss Baker has done District work, Miss Morgan has been stationed at Sprucehead and Miss Hunt at Prospect Harbor. Encouraging reports of their work have come to us from time to time.

Four have labored within the boundary of the New Hampshire Conference:—Miss Granger and Miss Wanzer as District workers, Miss Hahn at St. Paul's, Manchester, and Mrs. Boultenhouse. The last named was married in December to Rev. J. F. Seaver. Our best wishes follow Mr. and Mrs. Seaver to their new parsonage home in Brookline, N. H.

Our matron, Miss Sugden, left in April on account of ill health and Miss Meda Robertson filled the vacancy during the summer. Miss Hahn in September was gladly welcomed back to the position of matron which place she fills admirably.

Miss Spencer, who served Grace Church, Worcester, for two years, entered the Deaconess Hospital for nurse training last spring.

Miss Eliza Jones and Miss Spear asked to be relieved from active service last August that they might be able to pursue further study.

Miss Lillian Jones and Miss Taggart were transferred to the Cincinnati Home and the Rock River Conference.

The call to foreign missionary work came to Miss Menia Wanzer. We are glad that in this day of unusual interest in world-wide missions our Home sends another representative to the field.

In August Miss McIntosh was called home by the illness of her mother. It is good she can be with her at this time and we pray that she may be strengthened as she ministers to her loved one.

There are thirty-six deaconesses belonging to the Home; thirty licensed and six probationers. Thirty-two are in active servce. Miss Louise Wood and Miss Boultenhouse were consecrated at the Conference in April and Miss Hunt and Miss Crocker were costumed in May.

Miss Aker is stationed at St. John's Church, South Boston; Miss Boultenhouse, at Saratoga Street, East Boston; Miss Bowman, at People's Temple; Miss Brown, at Meridian Street, East Boston; Miss Chisholm, at First Church, Boston; Miss Carty, at Trinity Church, Worcester, Miss Crocker, at Daniel Dorchester Memorial, West Roxbury; Miss Detwiler, Park Ave., Somerville; Miss Dower, Barham Memorial, South Boston; Miss Inglis, Bethany Church, Roslindale; Miss Passmore, First Church, Lynn; Miss Reed, Cary Ave., Chelsea; Miss Swett, Malden Centre; Miss Louise Wood, Wesley Church, Salem; Miss Emma Wood, Stanton Ave., Dorchester.

During the past year the members of the family have been in labors abundant. We are grateful for the privilege of service and would say with one of old, 'not unto us, not unto us, O Lord, but unto thee be the glory.'

Words fail us as we attempt to express our gratitude to all who have helped carry on this work. We wish to thank the members of the Deaconess Home family for their warm welcome; to Miss Stratton for her sympathetic helpful spirit; to the Board and host of loyal friends and supporters of our work, and most of all to Him who has led us all the way. We are looking to Him for guidance this coming year. In His name we will arise and go forward claiming the promise, 'Lo, I am with you alway.'

PROPOSED DEACONESS TRAINING SCHOOL BUILDING,
1 Deaconess Road, Boston.
ORIANNA F. HARDING, Superintendent.

DEACONESS BIBLE TRAINING SCHOOL.

ORIANNA F. HARDING, Superintendent, 1 Deaconess Road, Boston.

It is with gratitude that a report of the work of the New England Deaconess Training School for the past year is written:—Gratitude to God for His blessing in the progress of the work, and for continued strength for service, gratitude to officers, teachers and friends of the School for their earnest sympathy, interest and help.

It has been a year of prosperity in this department. Good health has been enjoyed almost continuously by all the members of the School, and good cheer and readiness for service has characterized their home life.

The School at present numbers as many as can possibly be cared for without enlarged accommodations, including many bright, promising young women whose entrance into deaconess work will mean much for its advancement.

Among others is a young Norwegian woman, strong, sturdy, devoted. Her desire is to be a deaconess and work among her own people. As a student she is doing splendid work in the Norwegian Church. This church stands ready to support her as a deaconess as soon as she shall finish her course of training. Another student is working largely among the French people of Lowell, spending Saturday and Sunday of each week in that city. Though not of their nationality, she has access to the parents through the children whom she teaches in League and Sunday School.

There have been some important additions to the course of study during the past year. A class in "Psychology and Religious Pedagogy," has been organized under the direction of Prof. N. W. Richardson, of Boston University, and is proving of great interest to to the students. The course in "Domestic Economy," which for a number of years has been taught by one of Boston's successful cooking teachers, has this year been enlarged by a "Matron's Course." A new text book has been introduced in the class in Sociology, with new supplementary reading and lectures. Some new and helpful features have been added to the course in "The Christian Worker's Class."

There are fourteen regular instructors in the School, two resident, and twelve non-resident. All non-resident teachers generously give their services, with the exception of the Domestic Science teacher. Two of the instructors have recognized such large opportunities in their class work that they have volunteered to give double the amount of time to instruction in the School. A high grade of work has been maintained by all the instructors, and too much cannot be said of their faithfulness, and zealous devotion to the interests of the School.

As the School has increased in numbers, the number of churches and missions desiring services of the students has also increased. They have worked in twenty Methodist Churches. They have made 9,615 calls in the homes of the people; taught in Sunday Schools, superintending in some cases some department of the School; superintended and carried forward the work of Junior Leagues; been leaders in Young People's Meetings; taught in Industrial Schools and in cooking and sewing Classes; have helped in Girls' Clubs, Mother's Meetings, Cottage Meetings and evangelistic services. They have visited in the homes of the poor, and the stranger, and in some instances have nursed the sick. In these ways they have tried to make the work entrusted to them count in bringing comfort and help to humanity, and in bringing in the kingdom of the Christ whom they serve.

Seven young women graduated from the School in May, Mrs. Maude Andrews, Addie Crocker, Pearl Gosnell, Audrey Hunt, Mrs. Ella Hunter and Cora Scott.

A number of graduates of the School have this year gone to needy mission fields in our home land or across the seas. In September last, Miss Pearl Gosnell sailed for Baroda, India, to become the wife of the Rev. Mr. Bisbee, a professor in a Mission College at that city. Mrs. Bisbee has the oversight of the young women students of the college.

Miss Vernice Gelvin, graduate of the class of 1909, superintends an Industrial Home in Mexico City, devoting herself to the care of forty-six Mexican girls of the poorer class. Miss Gelvin writes that these girls have never known homes with common comforts, such as floors, beds, etc., so can know very little of domestic work. This is the first School of its kind and all denominations are interested in the work.

Miss Grace Twining, graduate of the class of 1906, went early in the autumn to the little village of Dorothy, West Virginia.

Miss Menia Wanzer, who graduated in 1910, has gone to Foochow, China. She has worked as Deaconess evangelist in Maine and Vermont. Her zeal and devotion enabled her to lead many to Christ.

Miss Cora Scott, who graduated last spring, is working in the "Children's House" of Morgan Memorial Church.

These facts from scattered fields show that the influence of the Training School is world-wide, and that its graduates are called to fill varied and important positions.

Ours is indeed a glorious opportunity, the opportunity to train young women not only for work in foreign lands, but also to work in New England among the people who come from foreign lands, young women who will learn the language and the ways of these strangers, and help to welcome and Christianize them.

Broad fields are before us. It is ours to cultivate them. These demands upon us, make more urgent the demands for larger accommodations and more means for the training of the workers. As God has pressed home the needs of the field upon all our hearts, so, we believe, will He supply the need.

DEACONESS HOSPITAL,
175 Bellevue St., Boston.
ADELIZA A. BETTS, Superintendent.

DEACONESS HOSPITAL
in Boston.

Miss Adeliza A. Betts, Superintendent, 175 Bellevue Street.

The work of 1911 has not differed from that of preceeding years. The object of the Hospital has been the same as it was when its doors were first opened in 1896 in the small home on Massachusetts Avenue. Its object has been to provide a Christian Home, where the sick and suffering of New England can have the very best medical and surgical care. The people are awake to this fact and that they are availing themselves of this help is shown by our records: 33 Patients come from Maine, 59 from New Hampshire, 12 Vermont, 779 from Massachusetts, 7 from Rhode Island, 6 from Connecticut.

The work is not limited to New England. From far beyond its borders have come patients who have needed us. The homes of these people are found in California, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, West Indies.

The sick poor from the cities and towns have come and as well from the outlying country districts of New England. Some of these had enough to pay their fare to the Hospital but not a dollar beside. The Hospital has received many such and cared for them.

The number of patients the past year has been 960. Many secured their own physicians, but a large number left it to the Hospital to look after all details of their operations and treatment.

Another year has revealed the continued willingness of physicians and surgeons to help and has shown their large hearted and generous interest in all who have needed them. Because of the skill of physicians and the devotion of nurses, mothers have been sent back to their families cured of some disability that has handicapped them for years. Children have had legs straightened, eyes and ears attended to, and care has been given that will make them stronger all their lives. Young women, carrying heavy burdens, as bread-winners of large families, have found the Hospital a place of cure, rest and recuperation. Grandmothers, seventy, eighty and beyond these years have received surgical treatment and their last days will be spent in much more comfort because of our practical ministry to them.

We note each year that the Hospital work is becoming better known and this is but the natural outgrowth of such a work as ours. Patients who come to the Hospital, receive help, meet the best physicians, have courteous and kind treatment from all, then go out and tell others who surely will want to come when care is needed.

Ministers and their wives and children have been among the number of our sick ones during the year. Ministers from many of our New England Churches have sent their parishioners for medical help.

The visiting Deaconess finds the sick in her field of labor and the past year has shown more than ever how necessary the Hospital is to them.

A woman was found by one of our Deaconesses who had suffered several years. She could speak but little English and her only son, a young boy, was the only one she could depend upon for support. Noting her condition, the Deaconess suggested the need of medical care but this seemed entirely beyond the poor woman's means. When the Deaconess assured the woman that she could plan for her care at the Deaconess Hospital a sense of happiness came to the woman in the thought that perhaps she could be helped. She was admitted and went back to her home in much better health.

Many of the best physicians and surgeons:—Specialists—have a part in the work of the Hospital. When they find that all is done that can be to help their patients, that they are content and happy in mind and that they get on nicely, they are eager to bring others and thus our Hospital is always filled.

A Jewish man cared for in his last days, an Italian boy cured and sent back to his home, a Swedish girl tenderly nursed in her last few weeks of earthly life, an Armenian received, show that the Hospital doors are wide open to the strangers of other lands.

One could have met in the Hospital during the year, people from all walks of life, as shown by the statistical tables which follow. The Hospital has not only received these patients but spared no pains to make their stay as pleasant as possible.

Forty patients spent their Christmas at the Hospital and it was the joy of all to make this a happy day for them. The building was prettily decorated, giving the appearance of real Christmas. A song service was given by the Nurses Saturday evening, and Sunday afternoon singers came from Allston Epworth league. The music was exceptionally fine and these friends made the day much pleasanter with their beautiful Christmas Carols. At the dawn of the Christmas morning, the procession of Nurses started from the third floor and marched to the dining room by the light of the candles which each held, singing Christmas songs as they marched. The coming of friends, letters, cards and many bright tokens of kindly thought proved to each patient that they were all well remembered. The patients were appreciative and the words of one grateful heart expresses the feeling of many. "We have had such a happy time today in the Hospital. They do everything they can to make it pleasant for the patients."

Those who have charge of the Hospital and its work are the Superintendent, Assistant, and four graduate nurses: One as night supervisor, one in the operating room and two as head nurses in the Hospital. Reception Deaconess, Secretary, Housekeeper, 27 undergraduate nurses, frequently six or more graduate nurses in charge of private patients. The Engineer, laundress and maids with the fifty or more patients constitute the Deaconess Hospital family which numbers over one hundred.

How is this large work supported is the question so often asked: Enough has been received from pay patients to pay the expense of days of free service.

In response to the presentation of the work by Deaconesses and others, contributions are made by Churches and Societies, Individuals from all over New England add their dollars to the support of the work.

The three free beds, "The George William Boyd" and "Fannie F. Eager," and the Deaconess Aid supported with the money received from the society's mite boxes enable the Hospital to give free care to many more than it otherwise could.

There is no more beautiful way to expend money than to put it into a free bed for the Hospital and it is certain that many will be moved to use their money in this way.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES.

Miss Adeliza A. Betts, Superintendent, 175 Bellevue Street, Fenway Station, Boston.

An important part of the work is the training of Nurses and much care and thought has been given to the Nurses' Training School. We endeavor to bring it up to a high standard and make the curriculum broad enough to cover all that the Nurse will meet in her work.

The State has, the past year, begun to enforce the law that all nurses must pass a State Examination. The class of 1911 was the first to take such examination and we are glad to report that all passed very creditably.

At the beginning of the year there were twenty-eight young women in Training: Ten of these were graduated. Fourteen probationers have been admitted; nine of these have been accepted as pupil nurses, making the whole number of nurses at present twenty-seven. Two of these are working in the Hospital at Concord. One is doing District work in Brookline under the Friendly Society.

Of those who graduated in 1911, eight are doing private nursing; Miss Lucy Robinson is Superintendent of the Deaconess Hospital in Concord and Miss Lillian Williams is head nurse there. Mrs. B. Sunomani Shaw goes to Barielly, India, the first of February to train other Hindustan nurses in the first Hospital established for woman in the Orient. By courtesy of Dr. William L. Richardson, Mrs. Shaw had a special course in training in the Boston Lying-in Hospital. She is well equipped for this responsible position.

At the beginning of the year, Miss Tena McLean, class of 1907 went to India where she will serve as Superintendent of Nurses in a Hospital at Jhansi, India. Miss McLean was for two years in charge of the operating suite and during that time won a large place for herself in the hearts of all for her capable, faithful and Christian ministry.

The Association Alumnae has met regularly during the year. The number of members is now fifty-eight. It has been voted to raise $5,000 to endow a bed to be known as the "Graduate Bed."

While the nurses have been busy in the Hospital, the District Nurse has been out in the by-ways, in attic and basement caring for the sick poor. She has entered many homes, having made 2,441 calls.

The District Nurse is well known as she goes her way from house to house. She is able to do much for the poor families. She receives her reward by seeing better conditions in the homes visited, greater knowledge on the part of the people of the laws of health and a desire to keep them. In addition to this district work, eighty-six days and twenty-three hours have been given in answering outside calls.

The more that is accomplished the larger is the amount we see possible. Each year we refuse people whose condition is pitiable and though we cannot take them yet our hearts are filled with compassion for the many poor incurables with no place to go. There are Deaconess Hospitals for the sick but no place for those beyond Medical help.

I would not close this report without special recognition of Board Members. Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, Committee members, who have given their money and time without returns, save the fact that they are doing the Lord's work; and to the physicians and surgeons for their skilful services; to all our faithful employees who have helped to make a success.

The Deaconess Aid Society, The Deaconess Aid Circle, The Deaconess Helpers, The Epworth Leagues, who have given such fine song service each month; The Hereford Club of Arlington St. Church which gave its annual musicale, have all helped on our work in many ways.

By the courtesy of Dr. Charles Parkhurst, Editor and Geo. E. Whittaker, Publisher, two copies of Zions Herald come to the Hospital each week.

As the mail was delivered one morning a copy of Zions Herald was handed to a patient. Later in the day a message was left at the office to say that "It has never been my good fortune to have the privilege of seeing a copy of Zions Herald, I want to congratulate you on having such a fine Church Paper."

HAVERHILL DEACONESS HOME,
Haverhill, Mass.
MRS. HELEN J. DIAMOND, Superintendent.

HAVERHILL DEACONESS HOME.

Mrs. Helen J. Diamond, Superintendent, R. F. D., Haverhill, Mass.

Many improvements have been made in the Home this past year. Besides being painted inside and out, a fine wide piazza has been added. This is screened in and has served as sleeping quarters at night, and as an outdoor sitting room during the day. This has been much appreciated by all. The new rainy day play house was a busy place during the summer. Sunny days as well as rainy ones, it has sheltered the children and on Sundays the services were held there. Ministers from the surrounding towns gladly gave their time to the children. Good seed was sown, which is surely bearing fruit. Six parties were entertained during the summer. In all 448 children had each from ten to twelve days' vacation, which means nearly nine hundred one week outings were given at Haverhill alone. One of the parties consisted of sixty-seven boys. They made the most of their time, causing the hills and woods to echo with their noise and glee. The piazza and rainy day play house were paid for in part by Mr. and Mrs. Hall of Methuen to whom we are indebted for many kindnesses.

The new cottage has been much admired by all who have seen it. It has been tastefully furnished and looks cosy and inviting and makes a good summer home for working girls. Some of the girls who came to us are old Fresh Air children of years ago, who are glad to have their vacation again with us. This gives the Deaconess a fine opportunity to come in close touch with girls or young women at a time when perhaps they most need a friend. To Mrs. A. H. Whitney we are indebted for this timely gift of building and furnishings, making it possible year after year to help in a very real way working girls who are bravely making their own living. How far reaching this may become who can say? We are most grateful to Mrs. Whitney who gives us the opportunity to help these girls.

Fresh air work goes on the year round. Here come women and girls who must stop and rest. With beautiful surroundings, and peace and quiet, many who are wearied with the unequal struggle of life are helped and encouraged to begin again. How glad some have been to have the mother in the home go away for a few weeks, coming back rested to take up her duties again. To us have come teachers, shop girls, factory girls, domestics and a variety of others. Several deaconesses have found rest and quiet and have been strengthened for further service. This is a work well pleasing to the Master, because of its helpfulness.

Classes are held weekly, in sewing and embroidery. The Ruth Wilbur Club, is made up of girls interested in nursing. Weekly lessons are given in caring for the sick in their homes. These are bright intelligent girls who may some day become Deaconess nurses.

The circulating Library is carried on by the girls themselves. We are grateful to the givers of such good books for they are eagerly read by the girls, at an age when what they read, has a marked influence on their lives.

On this beautiful estate, are over one hundred and fifty fruit trees, apple, pear and plum. These are being pruned and put in bearing order and we hope to have lots of fruit next year. This with our vegetable garden will be quite an addition to our tables, summer and winter.

Our gratitude goes out to the many who have helped in the good work of the summer. Some of the volunteer workers have given their services for several years, and do not seem to tire of the children's work. To them, and indeed to all, who have in any way given of themselves, or their money, we return our sincere thanks. Surely the blessing of the Master rests on them, as on us, who are seeking to carry on the work He has left us to do.

DEACONESS HOSPITAL.
R. F. D., Concord, Mass.

LUCY CHERILLE ROBINSON, Superintendent.

This report of Deaconess Hospital service in Concord, Mass., covers forty-seven days from the reception of the first patient, November fifteenth to December thirty-first.

The beautiful grounds surrounding the building in process of construction were a mecca for deaconesses and friends of their work throughout the summer, but it was on November twelfth, the date of the dedication of the completed building all equipped for service, that multitudes came. At least twenty-five hundred of the people of Concord and surrounding towns were received and manifested interest in every detail of the hospital. Owing to a high wind the service was not held out of doors as had been planned. The small proportion of visitors enabled to attend the dedication in the nurses' parlor were well repaid.

Each Protestant pastor of Concord most graciously conducted a number on the program. Mrs. Blake of Concord and Miss Margaret Robertson, a Deaconess nurse, rendered solos.

Rev. George H. Spencer, Superintendent of Methodist work of Cambridge District, spoke concisely and earnestly of the work of the Deaconess and of her relation to the church and the community. Mr. William Wheeler of Concord uttered appropriate words of appreciation of the simple quiet life lived by Charles Emerson and his beloved wife, whose gifts have made this institution possible. The following afternoon the reception committee bade welcome to several hundred visitors. The tea tables in charge of Concord ladies were most attractive. Expressions of pride and belief that the Hospital is to fill a need in the community were heard on every side. The hearty wishes that the little Hospital of so careful construction and equipment in charge of consecrated workers may serve its purpose well gave courage to any doubting ones.

Thus a Deaconess Hospital has become an established institution of old Concord.

The attitude of genuine interest and helpfulness manifested by all the physicians of Concord has been an encouragement to the nurses in charge and gives promise of widening opportunity for future service.

Dr. George E. Titcomb brought books of value for the professional library and many helpful suggestions as well.

A number of surgical instruments and a dozen cans of ether offered in Dr. Henry J. Walcott's genial manner assured the nurses of a professional friend at the start. Dr. Barker of Concord gave a wheel chair.

DEACONESS HOSPITAL, Concord, Mass.
LUCY CHERILLE ROBINSON, Superintendent.

Dr. Edwin L. Drowne has shown enthusiastic interest in every development of the work as has also Dr. Howard Hamblin of Maynard.

At the close of the first month every practicing physician of Concord had served professionally in the Hospital either in treatment, surgery or giving anaesthetic.

Twenty of the thirty-four patients treated are residents of Concord.

Twenty-six operations have been performed, from which all patients have recovered.

Many patients have a fearful dread of entering a hospital. The home-like atmosphere and friendliness of the nurses soon dispels their fears however, and one such said, "I shall come here whenever I have a toothache after this."

Patients have expressed gratitude in different ways; in influencing wealthy friends to give of their means to the institution or in words like these, "My wife says if she had been a millionaire she could not have been treated better."

One laborer, the father of eight children, with tears of thankfulness in his eyes, wanted to "pay more" in the attempt to express his appreciation for the care of his child.

One came in sore need of care and nourishing food and after several weeks went away healed in body and touched deeply in spirit by his sojourn in a Christian home.

The ready response of the King's Daughters of First Church, and of individuals to pay the expenses of those who need care but are unable to pay for themselves is worthy of note.

Much credit is due Deaconess, Lillian Williams, who has labored unceasingly as head nurse to promote the success of the work. Her capabilities particularly fit her for the position where she is universally beloved by nurses and patients.

Deaconesses Margaret Robertson, and Lydia Stanley and Miss Lillie Searle, a graduate of the Chatauqua course for nurses, have proven able assistants in promoting the Christian Home spirit as well as in maintaining a high standard of efficiency as professional nurses.

The Superintendent has been most fortunate in securing Christian helpers as cook, maid and janitor, who manifest their love for the Hospital Home in the diligent service they cheerfully render.

Thanksgiving Day was observed in the true way. Songs of Praise and Thanksgiving filled the wards morning and evening. Even the sick ones joined the family in thankfulness to God, who has so wonderfully blessed this work during the past year.

Again at Christmas the spirit of the Christ was very close to all hearts. Appropriate selections were sung by Miss Robertson on Christmas eve. The morning carols were sung in processional. The whole house looked cheery with evergreen wreaths at the windows, cut flowers and blooming plants in every room. Each dinner tray bore a Christmas Thought and a box of delicacies as well as a good dinner.

The constant demands for more room has led to the plan for another ward on the second floor in the near future to be used for obstetrical work, which will increase the accommodation for adults to fifteen.

Each member of the Deaconess Hospital family wish to thank all the friends whose kindness has made our beginnings pleasant, especially Dr. Theodore Chamberlin, Mrs. Sidney Coolidge and Mrs. William Wheeler, for especial friendliness and wise counsel.

A large number of the ladies of Concord have been sewing for the hospital both before its opening and in Circles since. All aid of this kind is fully appreciated by those in charge as well as enjoyed by the patients.

May the New Year bring widening opportunities for service, "For Jesus' Sake" in this new field.

THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

THEODORE A. HILDRETH, 112 Water Street, Boston.

It is a pleasure to be associated with and to report a work which is a success. The success of this Association during 1911 is evident. God has set his seal of approval upon the work reported today by the various superintendents. Whatever may be our ambition for the future—however impatient that some things we could wish have not been accomplished, we certainly should be encouraged, at the prosperity of every department of this splendid Association. Today should be a day of devout thanksgiving and without a shadow to vex its spirit. There has been sacrificial service by the body of deaconesses, and nurses, answer has come to their prayers of faith. There has been fully given of time and substance, talent and earnest thought; of judgment and wisdom by those laymen no less purposeful in spirit, who are responsible for the management of property interests and the direction of associational activity. All of these under divine guidance have made for success.

The year has seen some change in the working forces. Miss Alice M. Robertson, who consented temporarily to serve as Acting Superintendent of the Home, and who so excellently managed it at a time of crisis, gave over in October her office and duties to Miss Sadie A. Hagen, the newly elected Superintendent. Miss Hagen is a graduate of our Training School, and has had a varied experience in the activities of the Association. By her good sense, judgment, poise and "saving sense of humor" as well as her devout purpose she has come to fit perfectly into her office. She is fortunate in having to assist her as Matron, Miss Hahn, a deaconess of long service, and as Secretary, Miss Stratton, who serves in deaconess spirit and on deaconess allowance.

Four deaconesses have been transferred to other societies:—among them Miss Josephine S. Fisk, who felt strongly called to the superintendency of the Providence work. We all are glad for her splendid success, and that her health has proven equal to her hard task. Three have taken leave of absence temporarily, one has entered Foreign Missionary work, one been honorably discharged, and one married. There were three entered the ranks from the Training School. At present the force of deaconesses is forty-seven; of nurses and pupil nurses, thirty-four.

Two deaconess nurses recently graduated and entitled by the State to the title of Registered Nurse—late in the year were placed at the head of the newly opened Hospital at Concord. Miss Lucy C. Robinson, Superintendent and Miss Lillian G. Williams, head nurse, have already won the sympathy of the community and the confidence of the attending doctors; they have certainly proven themselves worthy of both. This report does not need to mention other institutions or superintendents longer in their office than these, whose reports appear elsewhere, and whose works speak their praise.

We would mention in this connection the important activities of the larger of our auxiliary societies, namely, the Deaconess Aid, always energetic and abundant in helpfulness. The long time president of that Society Mrs. F. A. Patterson, has wrought marvelously with the aid of her hundreds of loyal members during her seven years of forceful and tactful administration. No one can tell how much has been done in creating a sentiment favorable to the deaconess movement or in advancing its usefulness. A few things we enumerate. Mrs. Patterson leaves the society with a membership of seven hundred women, with a treasury with nearly two thousand dollars in it and no debts, with a succession of good officers to carry on the work. During her incumbency fifteen thousand dollars have been raised and the largess of the society has been impartially administered to the various departments of the Association. We would include in our appreciation of those who ably assisted Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. E. C. Mann, Vice President, Mrs. H. W. Calder, Recording Secretary, and Mrs. E. L. Pack, Corresponding Secretary. These also terminate their terms of office at this time. Mrs. G. B. Law, Treasurer, who for nine years has very ably administered her office, consents to remain in that capacity. These splendid workers both merit and receive our heartfelt thanks for their many good deeds.

The Deaconess Aid Circle is evidently growing in strength. It has always been useful and enthusiastic, but the past year has enlarged its usefulness in all departments and especially by its interest in the new Training School Building project.

A new organization, the Alumnae of the Training School has shown its enthusiasm for the proposed building by raising a considerable fund for that project.

The two enterprises projected at the time of the last annual report, the Hospital and Farm at Concord, are now in operation. The Corresponding Secretary has given as large a part of his time as could be spared from his regular and routine duties to promoting these. This together with his long illness will be sufficient to account for no greater progress having been made in the effort to secure a new Training School Building.

The Hospital at Concord is an undoubted and enthusiastic success—already used to its full capacity. The Concord members of the Committee, Mrs. William Wheeler, Mrs. Sidney Coolidge, Mr. Harvey Wheeler, and Dr. Theodore Chamberlin, have shown the deepest interest and greatest spirit of helpfulness. Mr. Clarence W. Williams as chairman of the Building Committee and Mrs. F. H. Eaves as chairman of the Furnishings Committee, both did superb work. Though much smaller than the Boston Hospital it will do proportionally fully as large a work and one of greater variety. The farm was just a parcel of land when given. In one year it has been fully equipped with modern buildings and machinery. It will supply the various institutions with dairy, poultry, and other farm products in sufficiency when once in full operation. This whole Concord enterprise is a commendation of the generosity and altruistic motive of Mr. Charles Emerson and his deceased wife and they should always be held in grateful memory. Mr. Emerson's modesty prevents the Association giving any other recognition than this written appreciation.

The Association has received during the past year for addition to its permanent property, the following:

From Mr. Charles Emerson, Cash $12,500. Mortgage and other notes $8,900. Life interest in real estate $1,100. Furnishings $100.

From estate of Mrs. Elizabeth H. Porter of Camden, Maine, bonds $3,000.

From estate of Miss Mary Holt of Boston, Cash $1,000.

From Friend, Cash $4,000. Bonds $5,000.

From Miss Columbia Kimball, Cash $2,000.

From estate of Mrs. Jennie G. Haley of Dover, N. H., Cash $1,793.

From Mrs. H. Maria Blood of Haverhill, Mass., Cash $5,800. Note $1,000.

From estate of Mr. John R. Pollock, Guilford, Me., Cash $418.

From Citizens of Concord, Cash $3,069.

From estate of Susan Donnell, of Sheepscot, Me., Cash $100.

From Mrs. A. H. Whitney, Cottage at Haverhill, $600.

From interest added to the principal of various building funds $2,908.

TOTAL $53,288.

How these funds have been applied may be determined by perusal of the report of the Treasurer.

This may be the place to recognize what has been done for the Association by those not of our denomination. During the past five years, $75,000 has come from others than Methodists, besides over $50,000 more from Methodists outside of any of the New England Conferences.

The association closes its year again with all bills paid, except on the work at Concord, those enterprises having been in operation so short a time it is but reasonable to hold their accounts open for another year. The Treasurer is entitled to great commendation for his careful management of the Association finances. Mr. Kimball has given daily attention to these duties. It would be little short of a disaster if he should be compelled to give over the office as he sometimes suggests may be necessary. He, with Mr. Peirce and Mr. Rich, form an Investment Committee in whose judgment the Association and its contributing friends may rest secure.

Since the organization of this Society in 1889, except for two years, has Mrs. T. C. Watkins been the Clerk. She is untiring in her devotion, being always present at the meetings of the Corporation, Board of Managers and Executive Committee.

It is impossible to mention by name all to whom recognition is due for fine loyal service. To Mr. Douglass who in the absence of our beloved President added to his other numerous duties those of Acting President, to the Executive Committee, the Chairmen and members of committees, be all praise. Their greatest reward will be in the happiness of an allotted task well done.

Mingled with our song of thanksgiving is a strain of sadness. Rev. Wm. Full, one of the best loved men connected with the Association, was called Home in August. We miss him here but we shall greet him again "when the day dawns and the shadows flee away." Another member of large and long service, mature wisdom and of kindest spirit, Mr. R. S. Douglass, has been lain aside. However, never tiring, never giving up, he uses pen and 'phone and still has a large part in the affairs of the Association.

We are glad to be assured of the activity and wise counsel of our President, Rev. W. T. Perrin, during 1912. He has been away from personal participation in this work for a long time. He has so far recovered his health to promise greater activity than ever. We have seriously missed him. The work will go more smoothly and naturally with his return.

Mrs. Helen J. Diamond, the Superintendent of the Home at Haverhill, was absent several months owing to a serious accident. She has now returned in fullness of health to her work of administration which she does so ably;—and to comfort with her genial presence those who need her.

What of the future—let us always face that way. We look to it with hope. Larger grows the outlook with the years. What has been done this past seven years we would hardly dared have hoped for. During this period we have doubled the number and more than doubled the capacity of our institutions. More than double the lines of work are carried on. Nearly three times the number of deaconesses and nurses give their service. The holdings of the Association are five fold greater. Surely in all this there is an assurance for 1912.

It is confidently expected that the Training School building so far as contemplated will be realized. Toward this there is $15,000 in hand or promised. To erect the building and finish it and pay a small debt now against the property $35,000 more is needed. It will surely come—it must come. Let us all at it!

During the year a considerable sum has been added to the Endowment Fund for the proposed Home for Aged Methodist women.

Indications are that there may be some definite move toward the building by the close of the year.

It is glorious to be alive and doing. It is great to have an appointed task. Ours is a magnificent opportunity. Let us improve it with united and happy endeavor.

AUXILIARY SOCIETIES.

Deaconess Aid Society of New England.

SADIE SARGENT CALDER, Recording Secretary.

During the year 1911, the regular business meetings of the Deaconess Aid Society of New England have been, with three exceptions, held in the Committee Room, 36 Bromfield Street.

Owing to the severe storm, the February meeting was omitted.

In June, we were delightfully entertained at the Park Avenue Church, West Somerville.

Our annual outing in September, was held on the beautiful grounds of our new Deaconess Hospital at Concord, Mass.

An event of the year which we all enjoy is the annual mite box opening. February 15th, Mrs. Arthur H. Whitney, 123 Main Street, Watertown, opened her beautiful Home for this affair, and a large number of mite box holders enjoyed her hospitality.

During the year the Institutional work at the Home has grown rapidly, Miss Colson, doing faithful work as superintendent of that department.

We are justly proud of our Deaconess Helpers and Deaconess Aid Clubs.

United effort, made possible, a most successful "Japanese Garden" held in Tremont Temple, November 14th, 15th and 16th. For months the members of our society had been working for this event, which was a financial success.

During the year many new members have joined our numbers and as we come to the close we feel that never was the society stronger, and that all are united in the purpose of making the year before us one of the very best.

The Annual Meeting of the Corporation was held at 36 Bromfield Street, January 2nd, at two o'clock.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Patterson who read her annual report. The Secretary, corresponding Secretary, and Treasurer each gave encouraging reports.

Voted to place the one thousand dollars pledged towards the new Training School Building at interest, until the building was started.

Mrs. F. A. Patterson has served the society as President seven years. Mrs. M. W. Mann, as vice president, six years. Mrs. H. W. Calder, as recording secretary and Mrs. E. L. Pack as corresponding secretary three years. These declined election.

Mrs. G. B. Law, who has faithfully performed the duties of Treasurer for nine years will continue in office, also Mrs. H. E. Noble, as auditor. The following officers were elected for 1912.

President, Mrs. R. S. Douglass, Brookline, Mass.
Vice-President, Mrs. R. A. Foss, Boston, Mass.
Recording Secretary, Mrs. A. C. Rich, West Medford.
Corresponding Secretary, Miss Edith Stidstone, Allston, Mass.
Treasurer, Mrs. G. B. Law, Lynn, Mass.
Auditor, Mrs. H. E. Noble, Malden, Mass.

DEACONESS HELPERS.

The Deaconess Helpers have not been idle the past year but have been busily engaged in various lines of work.

In May, a few of the girls were present at Commencement and enjoyed the privilege of presenting roses to the graduates.

In June, the Annual Donation Party was held at the Deaconess Home, when about 40 new garments and towels and 170 second-hand garments were brought in, also pictures, books, magazines, etc. The circle from First Church, Everett, brought $5.00, Medford Hillside $5.00, Newton Center $4.00 and Stoneham $2.00 for Fresh Air Work. Dorchester Circle brought $6.00 as a beginning for the Fair, also Medford Hillside $3.10.

In August, two of the circles gave a day's pleasure to a party of mothers and babies from Boston, paying their fares, giving them a good dinner, an interesting program, and a motor-boat ride. Other picnics were given also. At Thanksgiving, baskets of food were provided for needy families, and at Christmas, gifts for poor children. Baskets of fruit were sent to the sick and shut-in and many kindly deeds were performed by these willing helpers for those less fortunate than themselves.

Much interest was felt in the Helpers Table at the Japanese Garden from which with the help of friends, they realized $100.

Several new circles have been organized during the year and others are under consideration.

Owing to severe weather, the Mitebox Opening, Jan. 13, was thinly attended and so far, but $15.16 has been realized.

E. J. C. MANN,
Organizer.

DEACONESS AID CLUBS.

There are two Deaconess Aid Clubs—one at Medford in charge of Mrs. James Gibson and the other at Tremont St. Church, Boston, in charge of Mrs. Russell Hoch. These clubs are composed of young ladies who are willing and enthusiastic whether working for their own church or for the deaconess cause. They have given assistance in the institutional work and they also had a table in the Japanese Garden from which they realized $69.36.

We hope that many new clubs may be formed during this year, and the interest in the work extended.

DEACONESS AID CIRCLE.

GRACE C. HOWES, Secretary.

In the work of the past year the Circle is not without some cause for self-gratulation of the chastened kind, of course, as becomes our modest position in the philanthropic world.

We have met our pledges and obligations and kept our treasury supplied through our efforts at the May Day Sale in the Spring, and at the Japanese Garden Fair in the Fall. After a disbursement of $138.41 for the year we have in our treasury on January 1st, 1912, a balance of $154.41.

To the Training School we have given the remaining $50 of the $100 pledged in 1910 for a room in the new building, also $50 toward a scholarship, together with a luncheon set of 37 pieces and four dozen napkins. The Hospital has had monthly contributions of flowers and our assistance in making many useful articles. The Deaconess Home was given a contribution of $20 and our usual furnishings for the annual Christmas festivities, which this year included one hundred thirty candy bags, six gallons ice cream, five pounds of crackers, and fifty pounds of candy.

Our Protege, of Jennings Seminary, Aurora, Ill., has held our warm interest as always, and we have taken pleasure in providing her with clothing, and at Christmas an attractive box was made up by our President, Miss Peirce.

The Fresh Air Home at Haverhill, has interested us and we hope to be able at another time to augment the sum of $20, sent in May to aid in the splendid work done in the summer months for the poor children of Boston.

As the balance in our treasury rarely exceeds $100 it can be safely asserted that we have made the most of our resources.

We are most grateful to the friends outside the circle who have from time to time given us their aid. We need them always. We have by no means stopped growing.

N. E. DEACONESS BIBLE TRAINING SCHOOL ALUMNAE ASSO.

SUSAN E. STRATTON, Corresponding Secretary.

In May, 1910, there was formed the New England Deaconess Bible Training School Alumnae Association for the purpose of promoting good fellowship among the graduates and of helping their Alma Mater in any way possible. The officers are: Miss Mabelle Whitney, President; Miss A. Louise Brown, 1st Vice-President; Miss Emily C. Barlow, 2nd Vice-President; Miss Ida M. Swett, Recording Secretary; Miss Edith F. Jarvis, Treasurer; Miss Susan E. Stratton, Corresponding Secretary.

It was voted that the Association raise money to furnish the main class room in the new Training School and in June, 1911, a lawn party was held on the grounds of the Training School. With the aid of kind friends we were enabled to net $121.

Mrs. Patterson very generously gave us table room at the Deaconess Aid Fair and from the sale of useful and fancy articles we can report a profit of $142.

Respectfully submitted,

SUSAN E. STRATTON,
Corresponding Secretary.
